Fugitives Seek Wideopen Spaces After Montana Sustains Frequent Shocks

$500,000 DAMAGE CAUSED

Gallatin Valley Apparently Was Center of Disturbance Over Weekend

Helena, Mont.—Residents of the Gallatin valley, the apparent center of the earthquake which shook four states Saturday night and Sunday, fastidiously remained out in the wide open spaces Monday looking back at about $500,000 worth of ruins—the aggregate cost of the tremor.

It was a whimsical earthquake. No one was killed.

Nearly a score of buildings cracked and fell. There were a half dozen landslides. A crevice extending at least three miles, a distance of ten miles, remains as one of the scars caused by the quake. The Lombard tunnel of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, suffered a cave-in and an avalanche at Deer Park covered 500 feet of railroad track, nearby, leaving it buried under earth and rocks 100 feet deep. This was caused when a cliff, 800 feet high, toppled and fell.

The three trains which were jammed in Saturday night by the avalanche were released Monday.

START SATURDAY

The quakes began about 6:22 Saturday night. Thousands of persons in Butte, Great Falls, Billings, Livingston, Missoula, Helena and other cities and towns were thrown into panic and rushed clear of buildings. The shocks continued intermittently until well after 10 o'clock Sunday. There were slight recurrences at Three Forks, White Sulphur Springs and Anaconda. Three Forks, Manhattan and Logan, all near the juncture of the Madison, Gallatin and Jefferson rivers, which form the source of the Missouri, sustained the greatest loss. The courthouse at White Sulphur Springs fell and several smaller structures were demolished. The loss there will exceed $100,000, it is said, and Three Forks, where the damage was greater, lost about $200,000, reports say. Three Forks residents counted 41 distinct shocks, they reported.

The Jefferson river, a short distance above the convergence point was lowered two feet by the quakes.

Hundreds of men were working in the mines at Butte and Anaconda as the earth's surface trembled, but in the 1,000 miles of underground workings there was no damage, according to Butte reports.

Leaning walls and twisted buildings in Manhattan and Three Forks probably will have to be razed by dynamite in order to forestall danger of their falling, residents said.

Dr. C. P. Clapp, president of the University of Montana, who is considered an authority on geology, declared Sunday night that the probable cause of the tremor was the moving of a "fault" in the eastern part of the mountain region of Montana.

COLONEL COOLIDGE OUT OF DANGER

CHARLIE CHAPLIN JR. TAKES CENTER OF FILM DOM STAGE

Beverly Hills, Calif.—A Charlie Chaplin without a limber cane, without a duck-shuffle or oversized shoes, monopolized film-dom's limelight Monday. He was Charles Spencer Chaplin, Jr., weight 6½ pounds, born at the Chaplin mansion here just before breakfast Sunday.

His mother, who was formerly the elder Chaplin's leading woman and who became the comedian's wife at the little Mexican town of Empalme last November, was said to be resting comfortably.

His father gave no interviews to the press but his great-grandfather, William Curry, divulged that the famous film portrayal of comic embarrassments had paced the floor and nibbled his finger-nails like countless other expectant fathers and had exclaimed when the babe finally was born to him:

"It looks like me."

The attending physician, Dr. James F. Holloran, who also helped Mrs. Chaplin into the world about 17 years ago, described her son as "one of the most perfectly formed babies I have ever seen."

BLAINE VETOES LABOR MEASURE

Governor Also Kills Bill for Distribution of Sample Ballots

By Associated Press
Madison—The bill by Assemblyman J. C. Thompson, Jr., Oshkosh, providing that an employer shall not be required to pay increased compensation under the workmen's compensation law or to pay penalties for violation of the child labor law, if he employs the child unlawfully, relying upon misrepresentation of age, by the parent or guardian, was vetoed Monday by Governor Blaine.

The bill would devitalize the child labor law, according to the veto message. It would create a situation whereby the employer and "unthinking or indifferent parents might very easily enter into a collusive arrangement in order to circumvent the law, the executive said.

Governor Blaine also vetoed the bills requiring city, village and town clerks to distribute general election sample ballots to each person whose name appears on the registry lists and restricting rabbit hunting in Grant county. Benefits from distribution of general election ballots would not equal the cost of distribution, the governor said. The rabbit hunting provision is included in the general measure on open season for game, it was explained.

FRENCH PREPARING TO EVACUATE RUHR VALLEY

By Associated Press
Paris—The French army of the Rhine Monday began preliminary preparations for the French evacuation of the Ruhr, which the Painleve government recently announced would be completed by August 15. This is in fulfillment of the promise made by the preceding Herriot government that France would evacuate the Ruhr within a year after the Dawes plan became effective.

It was said in official circles Monday that evacuation preparations would be completed before August 15, so that all the French soldiers in the Ruhr region will have to do on that day will be simply walk out.

The preparations consist of the removal of materials to bases in the rear and along the lines of communications.

Fifteen Drown When Ship Sinks Fishing Schooner

By Associated Press
Gloucester, Mass.—Fifteen men were drowned and nine other members of the crew of the fishing schooner Rex of this port, rescued, when the boat was sunk in a collision with the Cunard Anchor line steamer Tuscania, 200 miles east of Halifax Sunday.

Beyond the meagre message received by the ship's owners from the Anchor line reporting the disaster, no word has come to amplify the details.

STORM DELAYS HURRIED TRIP TO SICK ROOM

Emergency Operation Brings Ease to Aged Man After Intense Pain

Plymouth, Vt.—Marked improvement in the condition of Col. John Coolidge, aged father of the president, who is ill at his home here, was reported Monday by physicians in attendance.

The president, who made a hurried trip here from Swampscott, was assured that the patient, apparently was out of danger, although it was emphasized that in view of the Colonel's age a setback was possible.

It was indicated that President and Mrs. Coolidge would remain here a day or two.

Visiting the sick room from time to time, the president and Mrs. Coolidge spent part of the morning in the front yard, joking with their son John who in overalls was doing the chores usually performed by his grandfather.

Physicians, admitting the possibility of a setback said that if all went well, the patient would be up and around again within three days. An emergency operation, apparently cleared up an acute condition but it is possible that it may be necessary to resort again to surgery to give permanent relief.

Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, the president hurriedly left the summer White House at Swampscott Sunday to be with his father. He had already sent his bedside his personal physician, Dr. James J. Coupal, who was accompanied here by Dr. A. L. Chute, a Boston surgeon.

TRIP TO BEDSIDE
The president was advised by Attorney General Sargent who was here, that his father was in intense pain. Without waiting for advice from the physicians, the president set out for his home.

Rushed by motor to North Station in Boston, Mr. Coolidge found a hurriedly assembled special train with steam up. Four hours later he was at Ludlow, Vt., where the President and Mrs. Coolidge were met by their son John, and the attorney general who accompanied them by motor to Plymouth.

Part of the final lap was traversed in a rain which made the winding, narrow road unsafe for fast travel. At several points the president's automobile edged its way over temporary bridges erected overnight to replace structures washed out by the storm. Another electrical storm broke over the hills surrounding this village shortly after the executive's arrival.

During the operation the patient conversed with the doctors and later, after greeting the President remarked that he needed a shave and asked whether the White House valet had made the trip.

Through the evening, the President and Mrs. Coolidge remained near the bedside, retiring an hour before midnight after receiving assurance from the physicians that all was well.

After breakfast, Doctors Coupal and Chute visited Colonel Coolidge, announcing later that he had spent a restful night and was doing as well as could be expected of a man of his age.

ARCHBISHOP LEAVES ON TRIP TO VATICAN

Milwaukee.—Sebastian G. Messmer, archbishop of the Catholic Diocese of Milwaukee, left last Sunday on the first leg of a trip to Rome and his boyhood home in Switzerland.

Archbishop Messmer who is 77 years old, was confined to a hospital here during the past spring, suffering from recurring attacks of heart disease, and for a time his condition was considered critical.

His condition improved late this spring, and his physicians declared him sufficiently strong to undertake the trip.

CAL'S DAD ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Physicians in attendance on Colonel John Coolidge, father of the president, reported a marked improvement in his condition Monday morning. The colonel is suffering from bladder trouble rendered dangerous by his 80 years. President Coolidge is "doing the chores" usually performed by his aged father.

Coolidge Opposes Cut In Tariff To Assist Europe

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925

Swampscott, Mass.—President Coolidge is finding himself very much at home in these parts. He cannot resist the temptation to motor around the old familiar places where he spent in relative obscurity so many years of his life. Today he feels the thrill of a future contrast, for he goes among the people who knew him as governor, there is on every side a greater tribute than he ever experienced in a striking manifestation of respect for the office of president and a pardonable pride in the fact that a son of New England is its incumbent.

To say the president is enjoying his change from the White House in Washington is to put it mildly. He concedes it with a smile or genuine enthusiasm. Somehow with all the gold and grandeur that must necessarily pursue him there is an absence of restraint here. Surrounding him are not the officials, who solemnly bow to his every whim but the old friends, the colleagues of politics in yester-years, the men "who knew him when" etc.

COMMENT ON TARIFF
Mr. Coolidge conducted the press conference in more serious mien. His attention had been called to the speeches being made in the international chamber of commerce meeting in Brussels. And particularly to the British delegate's suggestion that America's wall ought to be lowered.

Mr. Coolidge's thoughts incidentally are significant of how he feels about the controversy on inside the Republican party lowering the tariff. He has always been a high tariff man and the very suggestion of reducing tariff to help Europe sends shivers up and down his back, for he holds tenaciously to the idea that a drop in the tariff would force wages down and bring a business depression through the diminished purchasing power of the American workman. If there is to be any tariff revision at all it will have to come out of proof that the American workman will benefit through increased exports due to an increased purchasing power of the European buyers—a doctrine that it not regarded as plausible at present by the Coolidge administration.

The president's notions about the speeches in Brussels were not based on an analysis of the addresses made there but on editorial comment and, of course, the New England press reflects the traditional feeling of this section that a tariff wall is as important to American prosperity. Some of the western Republicans feel differently about it but Mr. Coolidge's opinion gun in the tariff fight which is sure to become acute in the autumn and winter months will be heard round the world.

TWO ARE RESCUED, ONE DROWNS AS BOAT TIPS

Wausau, Wis.—Frank Teresinski of Wausau, an employee of the Marathon Paper Mill Co. at Rothschild, was drowned Sunday in Rolling Stone lake when the boat in which he and Mike and Charles Albrecht were fishing was capsized by the high waves. The body had not been recovered early Monday. The Albrecht brothers held onto the boat, which had overturned until rescued a half hour later by Walter Sell and Walter Gruenewald. They were almost exhausted from the cold and excitement and could have held out only a few minutes longer. This is the second drowning in Rolling Stone lake within two weeks.

CHURCH IS RAZED BY FIRE ON ANNIVERSARY

By Associated Press
Madison—While 1,500 persons Sunday afternoon were attending the silver wedding jubilee of St. Williams church at Paoli, 16 miles south-west of Madison, the structure caught fire and practically was destroyed. The fire of unknown origin started in a barn near the church and jumped to the church and other nearby buildings.

A strong west wind carried sparks for a quarter mile and the entire village was threatened. Firemen from Verona and Belleville helped fight the fire. Furnishings in the church were saved.

The Rev. Francis Schwinn, Watertown, Wis., who said the first mass in the new structure 25 years ago, also read the last mass. He said a solemn high mass at the opening celebrations Sunday morning. It is estimated that replacement of the church will cost more than $20,000.

TRAGEDY ENDS WEDDING TOUR NEAR FREMONT

Bride of Three Months Instantly Killed by Shotgun at Wolf River Camp

Winnebago authorities are investigating a tragedy which took place near Fremont Saturday night in which Mrs. Victor Baker, 21, of Berlin, a bride enroute with her husband on a honeymoon trip to California, was killed instantly by the discharge of a shotgun. The body was conveyed back to Berlin Sunday and the funeral will be held there at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker drove as far as Fremont in their automobile, according to reports made to officials at Fremont, and prepared to camp for the night at a point on Wolf River two miles from the village. Mr. Baker, who is a chiropractor at Berlin, said the couple was unpacking its luggage at about 8 o'clock in the evening and a shotgun which was among its belongings accidentally was discharged.

The entire charge of a 12-gauge shell entered the back of Mrs. Baker's neck and came out through her face, nearly severing the head from the body. She is said to have died instantly. The body was taken to the Irving-Bauer undertaking establishment and kept there until Sunday, when it was conveyed to the home at Berlin.

It was said that the couple had been married about three months ago and that the journey on which it was embarking was a honeymoon jaunt to California.

First reports were that Mr. Baker had been placed in jail after the shooting pending an investigation but this was denied by the chief of police of Berlin who said the chiropractor had returned home with the body and was at liberty there. Dr. K. Allen, district attorney of Winnebago county, left Oshkosh for Berlin Monday morning to learn the facts of Mrs. Baker's death and possibly order an inquest.

RIOTING MINERS DAMAGE OHIO MINE PROPERTY

Pomeroy, O.—The situation in the Pomeroy Bend coal fields, where union miners have been on strike more than a year and where several coal companies have recently resumed operations with non-union miners took on a more serious aspect Friday night with the burning of the outer workings of one of the mines, the dynamiting of a river ferry and an automobile and sundry lesser disturbances.

BLINDING HEADLIGHTS CAUSE FATAL ACCIDENT

La Crosse—Harold Oyen, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Oyen, was killed, and Robert Hurlen, 24, was badly cut and bruised when a car in which they were riding crashed into a tree on the edge of the Onaska road. Blinding headlights of an approaching car are attributed as the cause of the accident.

Fear Fresh Bloodshed As Chinese Students Gather

Shanghai—Renewed apprehension is felt regarding conditions in several of the recent trouble centers of China.

Telegrams received Monday from Hallow, port to Kiang Chow on the island of Hainan off the coast of Kwang Tung (in which province Canton and Hongkong are located) said that foreign demonstrations have become more violent and the situation is acute. Chinese students are pouring into Hallow from all directions and attempting to stir up trouble, it was reported.

THE BRITISH COUNCIL AT FOO CHOW HAS REQUESTED PROTECTION FROM THE CHINESE MILITARY GOVERNOR BECAUSE OF REPORTS OF AN ATTACK UPON CABLE STATION AT THAT PORT.

The hostility against Japanese is particularly in evidence at Chungking, reports say. All Japanese living in the city were evacuated at midnight on three Japanese steamers.

The labor situation at Shanghai is unchanged but Chinese continue to throw stones at street cars and mail-buses.

18 MONTHS OLD BABY DROWNS AT WAVERLY BEACH

Falling face downward in the water into which he had walked with other small boys, "Billy" Allen 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen, Fond du Lac, was drowned in Lake Winnebago at Waverly beach about 1:45 this afternoon. The body was recovered almost at once and the parents rushed to Appleton where an effort was made to revive the child with the fire department lung-motor. The child was dead, however.

The baby, it is said followed the other children into the lake and had only gone a few feet when it fell face down. The family is camping at the beach.

ARMED QUARTET ESCAPES PRISON

Desperados Force Guards to Shield Them from Bullets of Officers

By Associated Press
Marquette, Mich.—Forcing two guards to act as shields to prevent their being fired at by other officers from the wall or four inmates of the Marquette Branch prison, each armed with an automatic revolver, late Sunday accomplished the most daring escape ever attempted in that institution and early Monday had not been captured.

It is believed that the fugitives are hiding in the woods near here. They have two bags of ammunition for their weapons and it is expected that their apprehension will be accomplished only after a gun fight.

The territory in which the convicts are thought to be hiding is being scoured by county officers, guards from the prison and state police, armed with revolvers and rifles and working under orders to shoot the fugitives on sight.

The fugitives are: Eddie Weisman, serving 15 to 20 years for armed robbery; Vance Harju, serving 20 to 40 years for armed robbery; Joe Deffora, serving life, and Isadore Londe, serving life. All were sentenced from Detroit.

PLAN HUGE CUT IN DRY FORCES AT WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C.—A sweeping reduction in the mobile prohibition agents forces and the dropping of 400 persons from the Washington prohibition headquarters personnel is planned under the newly ordered decentralization program of the treasury department.

The field enforcement which will be under 22 administrators throughout the country will employ two hundred general agents instead of 300 now on the rolls.

Whether the 200 men will be selected from the present force or made up entirely of new men has not been decided.

How the reorganization will affect the 1,000 prohibition agents now operating under state directors is yet to develop.

The cut of approximately two thirds in the Washington force will be felt most severely in the three important divisions—law, permit and industrial alcohol—where some section heads as well as clerks and other employees are to be dropped.

Prohibition Commissioner Hayes, under the decentralization, will be supervisor of enforcement activities carried on by the federal field administrators.

POLICE REGAIN CARS DESPITE MEAGER FACTS

Autoists Can Speed Action on Stolen Cars if They Know Numbers

In spite of extremely meager information given in most cases, every one of the seven cars stolen here this year has been returned to its owner through efforts of the police department. According to George T. Prim, chief of police, owners of lost or stolen cars often are unable to remember the number of their license plates. It has also occurred that the owner of the car has given the wrong number, and this generally results in an extremely embarrassing situation. The motorcycle officer who makes the arrest in the belief that the correct number has been given, finds himself with an innocent and justly irate man on his hands when he finds his mistake.

If the owner has forgotten his number and has left his card at home, the delay caused in looking up the records at the police station gives the thief plenty of time to be on his way, and makes his capture very difficult. The department keeps a book in the station giving the old and new numbers of all cars owned, but many of the owners have neglected to notify the police of their new numbers. If the numbers were reported in every case it would be a small matter to find them in the book, and the pursuit could be taken up immediately.

Some owners even are unable to describe their car accurately after it has disappeared, according to the police. This may be due to excitement or anger, but in some instances it has been simple forgetfulness or carelessness. Car owners who do their own work whenever possible generally are able to give many marks of identification, the police finds, while others hardly know the color of their automobiles.

Not only must the local police look out for cars stolen here, but scores of notices are received each week from other cities, asking the officers to look out for automobiles that have been stolen there. Frequently as many as 30 or 40 of these cards are received here in one day, generally from the insurance company with which the car has been insured. It is evident that the difficulty of remembering descriptions of so many cars is great, and owners should be careful to give exact distinguishing features when their cars are lost or stolen.

DEATH DUTIES MAY WIPE OUT ANCESTRAL ESTATES

Glasgow—The great estates of England, Scotland and Ireland are doomed to be "done away with eventually owing to the death duties of landowners collected by the state and which sometimes total as high as 60 percent. The landlords protested vigorously at first but in vain and in most cases, have resigned themselves to their fate.

Speaking before the Glasgow Conservative club, where he was entertained on the attainment of his dual jubilee, the Duke of Montrose said he doubted that the rising generation realized the transition which is taking place in regard to their future. "We are running very fast in these democratic times," he said, "and the big estates and ancestral castles which were a feature of my younger days must gradually disappear in virtue of the death duties as they are now assessed. The landlords' rights are being curtailed every day, but nevertheless I cannot help but think that I have lived during the most prosperous time of this old country of ours. Possibly we won't miss the old castles, after all.

ADDED INSULT IN NEW TAX LAW, SAYS PINKERTON

Neenah Knitting Manufacturer Expresses His Views at Convention

L. J. Pinkerton of Neenah, president of the Knitted Outerwear Manufacturers association in convention at Sheboygan, attacked the state tax laws in an address to the assembled members Thursday, saying they placed a "tax premium on ambition and earnest endeavor."

"Those of us attempting to run our business in Wisconsin chafe under the lash of excessive and unnecessary tax burden in this state," Mr. Pinkerton said. "It already has driven numerous industries and millions of investment money out of the state, which imposes that additional burden on those of us who remain because we are so tied we can't get away. And with the burden almost to the breaking point comes the added insult in the recently enacted law creating a double taxation on all merchants and industries who carry a load of stock or raw material, by forcing personal property tax in addition to the state income tax."

"This unjustified and confiscatory tax on honest industry has stopped numerous industries, to my knowledge, from increasing their capacity or giving added employment, because of this tax premium on ambition and earnest effort."

"But for restless energy, dauntless courage, and persistent endeavor on the part of hardy Wisconsin citizens this state would soon revert to Chief Oshkosh and his followers for their nomadic wanderings."

Walter Zwicker and Joseph Weber attended the conference from Appleton.

BRITAIN MAY HAVE TO STUDY ITS ART IN U. S.

By Associated Press
London—The time appears to be rapidly approaching when it will be necessary for Englishmen to make a tour of the United States in order to study European art, says the Sunday Pictorial, commenting on "our lost art treasures" which have been purchased in England and other European countries by Americans since the war.

"Our own art treasures are pouring across the Atlantic at a portentous rate," says the article. "Two million pounds' worth of pictures and antique furniture alone were sold in London for America last year, and the total since the war has been estimated at nearly $55,000,000. Soon there may be no 'old masters' in England outside the public galleries. All the private collections will have been transferred to American millionaires and transported to the other side."

CHILD PLAYING IN ROAD KILLED BY CAR DRIVER

Michigan Man Runs into Hortonville Baby Playing in Road Near His Home

Turning suddenly from the right side of the road to avoid striking two children playing on the concrete, William O. Riese, Muskegon, Mich., struck 3-year-old Laverne Nass, playing on the edge of the concrete on the left side of the road, injuring the child so severely that he died in St. Elizabeth hospital about 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The accident occurred Sunday noon in front of the child's home on Highway 26, just east of the Hortonville village limits.

The child was the son of Mrs. Alvina Nass who had moved to Hortonville from New London only about a week ago.

Riese saw the two children playing on the right side of the road as he turned the brow of a hill. He turned out to pass them and the smaller child stepped on the concrete directly ahead of the car. Mr. Riese turned sharply into the ditch but could not avoid the youngster.

The boy, badly injured, was treated by Hortonville physician and taken to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Plantz of Antigo visited Appleton friends Sunday, on their way to Chicago.

Russell Hunting, Racine, will have charge of the general recreation program and will edit the camp paper, and Elbert Smith, Elderon, will be in charge of the camp store, and have charge of camp music. C. C. Dishmaker of Algoma, will be camp physician.

The original date set for the opening of the camp was July 6, but due to the cold weather the cherries will probably not be ready for the pickers until about July 10. The enrollment for the camp now numbers 265 pickers. As the enrollment is limited to 300, registrations will probably be closed in a few days. Some boys have put off registration expecting to find steady work for the summer, but due to the scarcity of jobs at the present time the personnel of the cherry pickers will probably be composed of more older boys than is usually the case. Milwaukee will send 32 boys to the camp, Kaukauna 29, Menasha, 16, and Kenosha 15. Pickers have been enrolled from 32 Wisconsin cities and towns.

"Y" HOLDING ONE BOYS' CONCLAVE

Plan of Splitting State Abandoned—Fond du Lac Gets Meeting

Y HOLDING ONE—The Y. M. C. A. conference will be held for the entire state this year, according to an advance notice received Saturday at Appleton Y. M. C. A.

Last year a new system was tried in which the state was split into a northern and southern section to save expenses for the boys and meetings were held in two cities of the state on the same dates. This year's conference will be held on Nov. 27-29 at Fond du Lac, according to the notices.

Principal speakers already secured are Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of Chicago, Dr. Edward A. Steiner, Grinnell, Iowa, Dr. N. B. Henderson, Madison, George Little, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, and George W. Campbell, Chicago, song leader.

With the announcement of the location of the 1925 conference, Appleton Y. M. C. A. leaders are highly elated. The two important association functions of the year are both to be held within 40 miles of Appleton and large delegations will be able to go from here, according to George F. Werner, general secretary. The other big "Y" function, the annual state association convention, is to be held in Green Bay.

CHILTON HOLDS BIG CELEBRATION JULY 4

Chilton will hold one of the largest Fourth of July celebrations staged in the state this year, according to advice received from that city. One of the principal features of the celebration is a huge display of fireworks titled "A Night of Horror in Japan," depicting the huge Japanese earthquake and the fire that followed in its wake. The celebration is to cover a period of two days, July 4 and 5. Amusements will include auto races, horse races, novelty races and two baseball games. There will be dancing every afternoon and evening, and a patriotic and decorated float parade on the morning of July 4.

LUTZ AT CONFERENCE OF PARAMOUNT MEN

Louis Lutz, manager of Fischer Appleton theatre, has been invited by Wisconsin officials of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation to attend a conference of the biggest exhibitors in the state at Milwaukee Monday and Tuesday. From ten to fifteen exhibitors have been called to the conclave to discuss ways and means of advertising Paramount pictures and to devise a system that will give the exhibitors in smaller towns a chance to increase their business.

Fred R. Morris, commander of Charles O. Baer camp, Norman H. Grunert and Joseph Forster will accompany Mr. Zerbel, while the auxiliary will be represented by Mrs. Fred Morris, president, Mrs. Matt Bauer, delegate, who also is secretary to the Appleton organization, Miss Mabel Ross, Mrs. Joseph Belling and Mrs. Aaron Zerbel.

The delegates and officials who will accompany them will go to the convention the first day, while a number of other members plan to attend only the closing session on July 3.

Board Will Meet
The board of directors of Butte des Morts Golf club will meet at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening for a dinner and business meeting at the Conway hotel. Covers for 15 will be laid at the dinner.

Appleton Winning Fame As Playground Of Wisconsin

Spend your summer vacation in Appleton, or its immediate vicinity is what thousands of people from all over the middle west are saying and planning to do each year about this time. The number of people who flock to Appleton for the summer is greater than in any preceding year. There's a reason; and it's a good one. The reason is that Appleton has almost every conceivable opportunity for recreation, and combined with this is the fact that the city is centrally located, and easy to reach by highway, railroad, or boat.

Facilities for outdoor sports are making Appleton more famous each year as a playground for summer tourists. The Fox river is an ideal stream for canoeing and for motor boats, while only three miles south, Lake Winnebago furnishes all that could be desired for boating, swimming and fishing. The sandy beach all along the north shore of the lake is one of the best bathing beaches in the state, and the water always is warm enough for swimmers, and has the added advantage of not being as treacherous as most of the deeper lakes of the state.

For those who have a weakness for the Scotch pastime, Appleton has two fine golf courses. At least 300 people other than Appletonians from all parts of the country and from a few foreign countries have played golf on the Butte des Morts course since the club opened on May 5 for the present season, according to Waldemar Hanson, caddy-master, who keeps a record of all people using the course. Among the names of golfers registered at the Butte des Morts course are: represented such places as Oxford, England, Montreal, Canada; Pittsburgh, New York city, Kansas City, Chicago, Milwaukee, Beverly Hills, Calif., Duluth, Minn.; Philadelphia, Dayton, Ohio; Buffalo, Patterson, N. J.; Iron Mountain, Mich.; Menominee, Mich.; Racine, Waukesha, Monmouth, Ill.; Oshkosh, Green Bay, Wausau, Stevens Point, Riverside, Ill.; Shawano, Chilton, Janesville, and Wisconsin Rapids.

The north shore of Lake Winnebago is dotted with cottages and summer homes of residents from different parts of Wisconsin. Among the better known beaches where cottages are located are Waverly, Brighton, Loch-hurst, Utowana, and Shore Acres. Shore Acres is one of the newer beaches being rapidly developed and built up with summer homes and cottages.

On the northeast shore of the lake is High Cliff Park. This is one of the best known scenic spots in Wisconsin and is but a half hour's drive from Appleton. Here a great limestone cliff overlooks the lake, and from the top of this precipice one can see across the country and across the lake for more than fifteen miles.

Eight public parks are included in the city limits of Appleton. The Lawrence college campus, covering three square blocks, is a big green square with much of the appearance of a park. There are four tennis courts on the campus which are open to the use of the public in summer when college is not in session. There also are tennis courts at the Y. M. C. A. and at Jones Park.

A large Y. M. C. A. building, a fine Elks hall, and a new Masonic temple, the most beautiful in Wisconsin, add to the comfort and pleasures of the vacationist or tourist who is affiliated with any of these organizations.

For those who prefer swimming in more confined quarters than Lake Winnebago, there is the municipal swimming pool, a big pool at the "Y" building, and a good pool at the Elks club.

MORE CARS HERE THAN IN OSHKOSH

Census Reveals Heavier Traffic Here Than in Green Bay

That traffic through Appleton on state trunk Highway 15 is heavier than traffic over the same route through Oshkosh and Green Bay was revealed in a traffic count taken in all three cities on Wednesday, June 17, between 6 o'clock in the morning and 11 o'clock at night. The Appleton count taken at the corner of Lemnawah-st and E. Wisconsin-ave showed a total of 3,558 vehicles passing this corner while at Green Bay the number of vehicles traveling over highway 15 was 3,416, and at Oshkosh vehicles using Highway 15 numbered only 2,748.

The Appleton census showed a gain over the vehicle census taken here a year ago, when 3,269 vehicles were counted on the road. Oshkosh suffered a loss in traffic over a year ago when the census revealed a count of 3,048 vehicles passing over the highway. This 10 per cent loss is attributed in Oshkosh to the fact that Highway 15 is barred off north of Fond du Lac, and that many people use another route to avoid the detour.

The Green Bay count was taken on highway 15 between Green Bay and De Pere, while the Oshkosh census was taken on the road to Fond du Lac, just south of the Oshkosh city limits.

A Mistake that some beauty seekers are making They are misled on "olive and palm" soaps

Do you realize, Madam, that "olive and palm" soaps are ages and ages old? But never has one, before Palmolive, brought comparable results to the skin.

Palmolive Soap is a masterpiece, based on 60 years of soap study. It is a scientific creation, made to bring new beauty to the skin. Made to keep schoolgirl complexions.

Its unique results have led millions to adopt it. Now it is made in five countries, to supply the world-wide demand. It is made in France, because French women find in this their ideal of a soap.

Soft, velvety complexions are many times as common as they were before Palmolive came. Then don't accept ordinary "olive and palm" soaps, with artificial color, and often super-fatted.

Palmolive costs 10 cents—no more than the price of most ordinary soaps. But that is due to enormous production. Palmolive has become the leading toilet soap of the world. The only two soaps we know that fairly compare with it cost 25 cents per cake.

This warning is in your interest. There is a way to keep youthful complexions, and multitudes have found it. But that way is not a mere "olive and palm" soap. It is found in Palmolive alone.

Note the unnatural "too green" color of Palmolive imitators. What does that suggest? Men don't paint nature to improve it.

Olive and palm oils—nothing else—give Palmolive its delicate, natural color. Olive and palm oils—no other fats whatsoever—are used in Palmolive.

No "super-fating," no "super-anything"—the only secret to Palmolive is its blending. And that is judged one of the world's priceless beauty secrets.

Let no one convince you—for your own sake—that any ordinary type of "olive and palm" soap can bring you Palmolive results.

Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake—take care. Use Palmolive, nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

IN PARIS

French women are discarding
French soaps for Palmolive

Palmolive is today one of the two greatest selling toilet soaps in France. Parisian beauties are happy to pay almost twice as much for a cake of Palmolive as American women pay. And, in many cases, three times as much as for their own French soaps. Remember this when tempted by costly French soaps, or by "French" claims for soaps.

Note carefully
the name and wrapper.
Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

TAINTED MONEY

The vote of five members of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin against accepting a donation offered by the General Educational board because the money originally came from John D. Rockefeller shows an emotional instability which unfits them for the position of responsibility they hold upon the board. Fortunately the gift was accepted by the deciding vote of the president. The attitude of the belligerent five is best expressed by the statement of one of them: "I don't think the University of Wisconsin wants any of the Rockefeller money; there is a very serious question as to how that money was acquired and to my mind it should not be accepted for any purpose of the University."

Mr. Rockefeller gave a great amount of money, something like a hundred million dollars to a corporation formed for the purpose of handling it and dividing its income among all the educational institutions of the United States and also using the income for research work, principally in preventing pestilences and epidemics and providing treatment for those who were in the unfortunate position of being unable to care for themselves. Regardless of the chain of title to the particular dollars that went into this fund, the cause is an especially worthy one.

But why should not our practical people of Wisconsin start an investigation to ascertain whether or not the very dollars that went into the fund were tainted, soiled, seared or corroded before they got there? One of those on the board opposed to receiving this money stated that there is "a serious question as to how the money was acquired." Let the investigating committee clear up all doubts upon this question.

Let us too in Wisconsin apply the same rule to all purposes, whether wholly public or of a semi-public nature. Let no church receive even a nickel in its contribution box without an investigation of where the nickel came from. Let all Y. M. C. A., K. C. and other great organizations that provide so many benefits for the public carefully examine every cent that is offered before receiving it.

We do not profess to know how Mr. Rockefeller acquired each dollar that came to his bank account. Part of it at least must have been acquired by unobjectionable means, but that makes no difference. If a man ever becomes possessed of any money in any manner which does not please us, let us punish him by making him keep it. That money must be sewed up somewhere so that it may never permit its taint to spread. We must never permit it to bring comfort to hungry children nor alleviation to those who are sick or suffer; nor, most of all, shall it ever be permitted to provide educational means to those who otherwise could not acquire them.

The action of the five dissenters on the board of regents is in keeping with a great many other impractical positions taken by men appointed in the last few years by the governor of Wisconsin. They weep or laugh by turns without rhyme or reason. It is not over-doing the situation to say that they bring to the performance of public functions many of the attributes of the hystric.

We would hesitate to believe that in voting to refuse this donation to the University they were merely proceeding upon the thought that it were best to raise more money in the state by taxation. Yet, if that thought were in their minds, it would be consistent and make the board of regents a full brother to the administration.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE WEATHERMAN

Here it is nearly the 1st of July and no summer yet.

The beaches, finer than ever and more alluring, wait for their throngs in vain. The open road, the lakes, yea, the very fish themselves are lonesome for human companionship.

We have taken the promise of the weatherman, "rising temperature tomorrow," until we have lost faith.

The children want summer, knee deep in June summer: a summer where the humming birds hum and the bees buzz; summer with June bugs and mosquitoes. Everyone wants summer: summer that makes small boys say "Hully gee, it's hot."

And the farmer wants summer: cold rain doesn't do him any good. It begins to look as though the weatherman has lined up with wall street to put the iron heel upon the Wisconsin farmer.

Now, Mr. Weatherman, bank up those arctic currents and turn on the Gulf stream full tilt and pull the shade from off the sun and make the people happy.

But most of all do not dampen the great celebration on the Fourth of July. That would be flouting your authority in the face of everyone, the final infamy.

Wisconsin cannot afford to have weather that keeps the teeth of the tourists chattering. Last year we had several hundred thousand tourists. They brought and left several million dollars in Wisconsin. It is our just return for the wonderful roads we give them and the great forests and lakes that are open to them. But they don't want to sleep under blankets and no one can blame them.

It's up to the weather to get busy. It were better to have summer with the pavement bubbling up from heat than one like that, where the ice man cannot even sell his frozen product.

SHEPHERD VERDICT

We think very few persons expected the jury to convict William D. Shepherd of the charge of murdering his ward, Billy McClintock. There was enough circumstantial evidence, and there was the confession of an alleged accomplice in a murder conspiracy, but unfortunately for the state, the credibility of the witnesses was insufficient to sustain what they told. The jury might have accepted the theory that a man accused of what Shepherd was accused would consort with crooks and quacks and not with honest and reputable men, but apparently it did not.

Notwithstanding the verdict of the jury, there will be many persons whose suspicions against Shepherd will not be removed, although legally this is unfair to him. He has been cleared by a jury of his peers, and that establishes in the eyes of the law his innocence. Whether other charges against him will be pressed remains to be seen, but it is probable that this verdict terminates the entire case.

Chicago's emotional sympathy for men accused of crime was typically illustrated when the jury brought in its verdict. There was a veritable celebration—one of the greatest demonstrations ever witnessed in the criminal court building, according to the news reports. It was as if the trial had been staged as a public entertainment, something after the fashion of gladiatorial days in the Roman arena, with the master of ceremonies holding thumbs up to let live the possible victim of the state's attack. The whole thing ended in a fiasco. The trial and finish ran true to Chicago form.

KINDLY ADVICE

Sometimes a fellow should stop and think before he haphazardly hands out advice, but never before he is inclined to suggest some ways for hot weather that seem to be best.

We know, of course, ought to know, as a rule, the sensible things that will help us keep cool. It's wee little kiddies who don't understand it's up to their parents to lend them a hand.

Through kindly suggestion a child can be made to play in a spot that is sheltered by shade. Explain just how fairly he'll pay for his fun if he recklessly sweaters and runs in too sun.

At morningtime lay out the coolest of clothes, and make the child walk, and not run, where he goes. The greens from the garden are things he should eat and it's best that you make him so easy on meat.

A cool bath at night proves a wonderful treat and aids a child's slumber in spite of the heat. Why, shucks, every parent's been through it, hence, I merely suggest you use good common sense.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. SUNSTROKE

Well informed people are beginning to read between the lines when more or less prominent citizens purport to have a "breakdown" from "overwork," or a "slight cold" from exposure," for they know from experience that these preliminary "bulletins" are generally mere hokum. Either the doctors are up a tree or it is none of the public's business what actually is the matter. If the "cold" or the "breakdown" is an honest lie, well and good, but if the doctors put forward such flimsy excuses, it is indeed unfortunate for the victim. Sunstroke is a clearly defined state brought on by exposure to the heat of the sun or to artificial heat. So called heat exhaustion, so frequently assigned as the cause of persons being "overcome by the heat"—in the papers—is not a clearly defined state and in nearly all such cases, if a proper medical examination of the victim be made, the condition appears to be ordinary collapse (from some grave illness) or shock (from injury or some depressing emotional experience) or ordinary fainting, with excessive summer heat a mere coincidence. It is perfectly probable that an individual already seriously ill would be more likely to collapse or faint from excessive summer heat and humidity than would a normal individual, but that does not alter the fact that heat exhaustion is purely hypothetical and not demonstrable in a scientific way. Usually a pain in the head and dizziness give warning of impending sunstroke or heat stroke (for the condition may be produced by exposure to excessive heat as among stokers on a steam ship or furnace men in the steel mills), and if these warnings are not heeded, presently the victim falls unconscious. There need be no doubt as to whether the condition is really heatstroke or sunstroke and not collapse from some underlying illness or ordinary fainting. For real heatstroke or sunstroke presents a very different picture from these other conditions which are commonly misinterpreted as "heat exhaustion" or "being overcome by the heat." In heatstroke or sunstroke the victim's face is flushed or cyanosed (purple or blue appearance), his breathing is deep, labored and probably noisy (stertorous or snoring or puffing), his skin feels hot and dry, his pulse is full and bounding (stronger than normal), and if his body temperature is taken it is actually elevated many degrees above normal. In collapse, surgical or accidental shock, or fainting, the picture is just the opposite in every respect: Pale face, shallow quick breathing, skin cold and clammy to the touch (cold sweat), pulse so feeble and small that a novice can scarcely feel it at all, and body temperature a degree or two below the normal. When this latter picture is seen, the heat or sun has little to do with the condition and the care of the victim is the care which should be given in ordinary collapse, shock or fainting.

The more perfect and unhampered the water evaporation from the skin the less likely a sunstroke or heatstroke in any circumstances. The main and practically the only function of sweat is to keep the body cool. As much water as one can comfortably drink should be taken therefore, when it is necessary to be exposed to extreme heat. The water should be at least agreeably cold. Sweat, which is having a temperature of about 50 degrees F. is not too cold for many persons to drink comfortably in large amounts. Fruit juices or ades are also advisable.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS—Epilepsy

What is the cause of epilepsy? Is there any known cure or relief? Kindly advise through paper. (H. M. G.)

Answer: Correspondents should bear in mind that it is possible to answer here only about 1 per cent of the queries received, and I can only select at random the questions to answer here. There is no specific cause and no specific remedy or cure for epilepsy as yet discovered. Epilepsy is considered a "neurosis," akin to hysteria, migraine, tic (habit spasm), and writer's cramp—a neurosis being a disorder of the nervous system without apparent organic cause. Physicians who have studied epilepsy point out that the condition seems to develop upon inheritance, and particularly as a consequence of alcoholism in the parents. Medicinal, dietetic and general hygienic treatment, such as may be had in state institutions or colonies for epilepsy, often brings about vast improvement.

WESTERN TOUR DRAWS LARGER CROWD YEARLY

Business Executives Lead List of Those Who Travel, Not the Teachers

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, D. C.—Yellowstone National park has just celebrated the formal opening of its fifty third season. This celebration was held at West Yellowstone, Montana, the west entrance to the park. To this came the governors of four states Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah. The women of the nation were represented by Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, in addition to Gov. Nellie Ross of Wyoming. Indians, cowboys and trappers brought back memories of the old west. Once more one of the nation's greatest playgrounds has opened its gates to the people.

For some time it has been noted that the western vacation has been gaining in popularity and it was decided to make a study to determine just how this has come about. The outlook for western summer travel in 1925 was surveyed; where the western tourists come from; what occupational groups show the greatest representation; what interests these travelers most; and the cost of such vacations.

Statistics of the number of visitors to five of the most popular national parks show that in each case there has been a marked increase since 1922. Strangely enough Mt. Rainier National park, in Washington, showed the greatest increase although it is the most distant. In 1922 there were 70,000 visitors to this park, while in 1924 there were 161,000. Furthermore, the year 1924 was not considered a good year for tourists by those whose business it is to keep up with such matters. Travel to practically every other section decreased.

BIG SEASON AHEAD
Three of the western railroads serving these tourists report that they have had double the number of requests for information about such vacations that they have had in any previous year. One system received over 30,000 requests for such information in two months and was obliged to employ additional workers in its travel bureaus in the principal cities. This same road is offering tours to the national parks and anticipates a large business.

Another interesting phase of this study was that showing which of the ten largest cities in the United States evinced the most interest in western vacations. Cleveland came first, the requests for information from that city being 125 per cent of the average for the whole country. New York City ranked second with 124 per cent and Chicago, third, with 116 per cent of the average.

Interest was even greater, however, in cities with populations under 500,000 and above 100,000. This was particularly true in the industrial centers near the large metropolitan districts. Jersey City inquiries were 291 per cent above the average for the country. Paterson 240 per cent and Yorkers 151 per cent. In the Philadelphia area that city itself was only 84 per cent above the average. Trenton, however, was 187 per cent and Camden 173 per cent. The people of Boston showed very little interest in western travel, the rate being only 29 per cent. New Bedford, however, showed 221 per cent. Fall River 120 and Lowell 113 per cent.

Among the groups of states, the Middle Atlantic states displayed the greatest interest. Inquiries from these states were 121 per cent above the average. Rainier National park had visitors from every state in the union

This is for the special attention of the man who hasn't paid any attention to the fact that the grand and glorious is just around the corner.

And since the big holiday is on Saturday—and since you are not going back to work Sunday—you have two days to dress up in the new garments you should buy today.

This stock of fine cool suits at $16.50 and $23.50 will convince any fair minded man that a few faint dollars never won such super-models.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

THE FASCINATIONS OF PARADOX

In one of this spring's novels that is definitely a revolt against the Victorian point of view and against the Puritan attitude a description is given of a church-page editor of one of the big Detroit newspapers. This editor is represented as having a wider acquaintance with ministers than any man in the state and his church-page is represented as having the reputation of being one of the best of its kind in America. So far so good. If that had been all there would not have been the slightest reason for introducing him into the novel. But this church-page editor, this close friend of ministers, this authority on ecclesiastical subjects is also one of the "fastest" members of the very fast set—the set that is picked in alcohol most of the time and that is always living as if "there ain't no ten commandments."

That was the reason for introducing the character—the author succumbed to the fascinations of paradox. A gambling, swearing, drinking editor of a church-page is a highly comic and a highly paradoxical combination and so the novelist-critic of Victorianism, of Puritanism, introduces him and squeezes some interesting pages out of him.

PROBABLY STRETCHED
The probabilities are of course all against the authenticity of such a combination. As a rule editors of religious magazines are not chosen from among atheists and skeptics if for no other reason, than that it would not be good business to choose for a famous church-page in a newspaper a rolister and a man of obviously loose life. It would not be good business from any point of view and it would not be likely to succeed anywhere except in fiction.

A generation ago it was quite common to make exactly the opposite of paradox of this kind. In those days it was invariably the "pious deacon, the pillar of the church, who was in the end found to have robbed the widows and orphans or who was responsible for any other type of rascality that the author needed in his plot. Anyone who knows anything about life knows that the probabilities are also against the authenticity of this kind of paradox which has been used at least a million times in novels and plays and which is still going strong in the movies. As a general thing church officers are at least as good morally as ordinary sinners and it is not common in real life to find that they wear a cloak of piety merely so that they will be better able to rob the unsuspecting. But that is about the impression one gets from the oldtime fiction manufacturers.

The explanation for the popularity of this device is exactly the same as the explanation for the church-page editor who was always on the verge of delirium tremens—the fascination of paradox. There is a comic flavor in such a situation that makes it interesting and most of us like to be told that things are not what they seem. It is the fashion of the anti-Puritan writers to make unmerciful fun of the oldtimers who worked to death the device of the deacon who turned out to be a whitened sepulchre. They classify that as one of the tricks of melodrama and why would never think of introducing such a character in their own books.

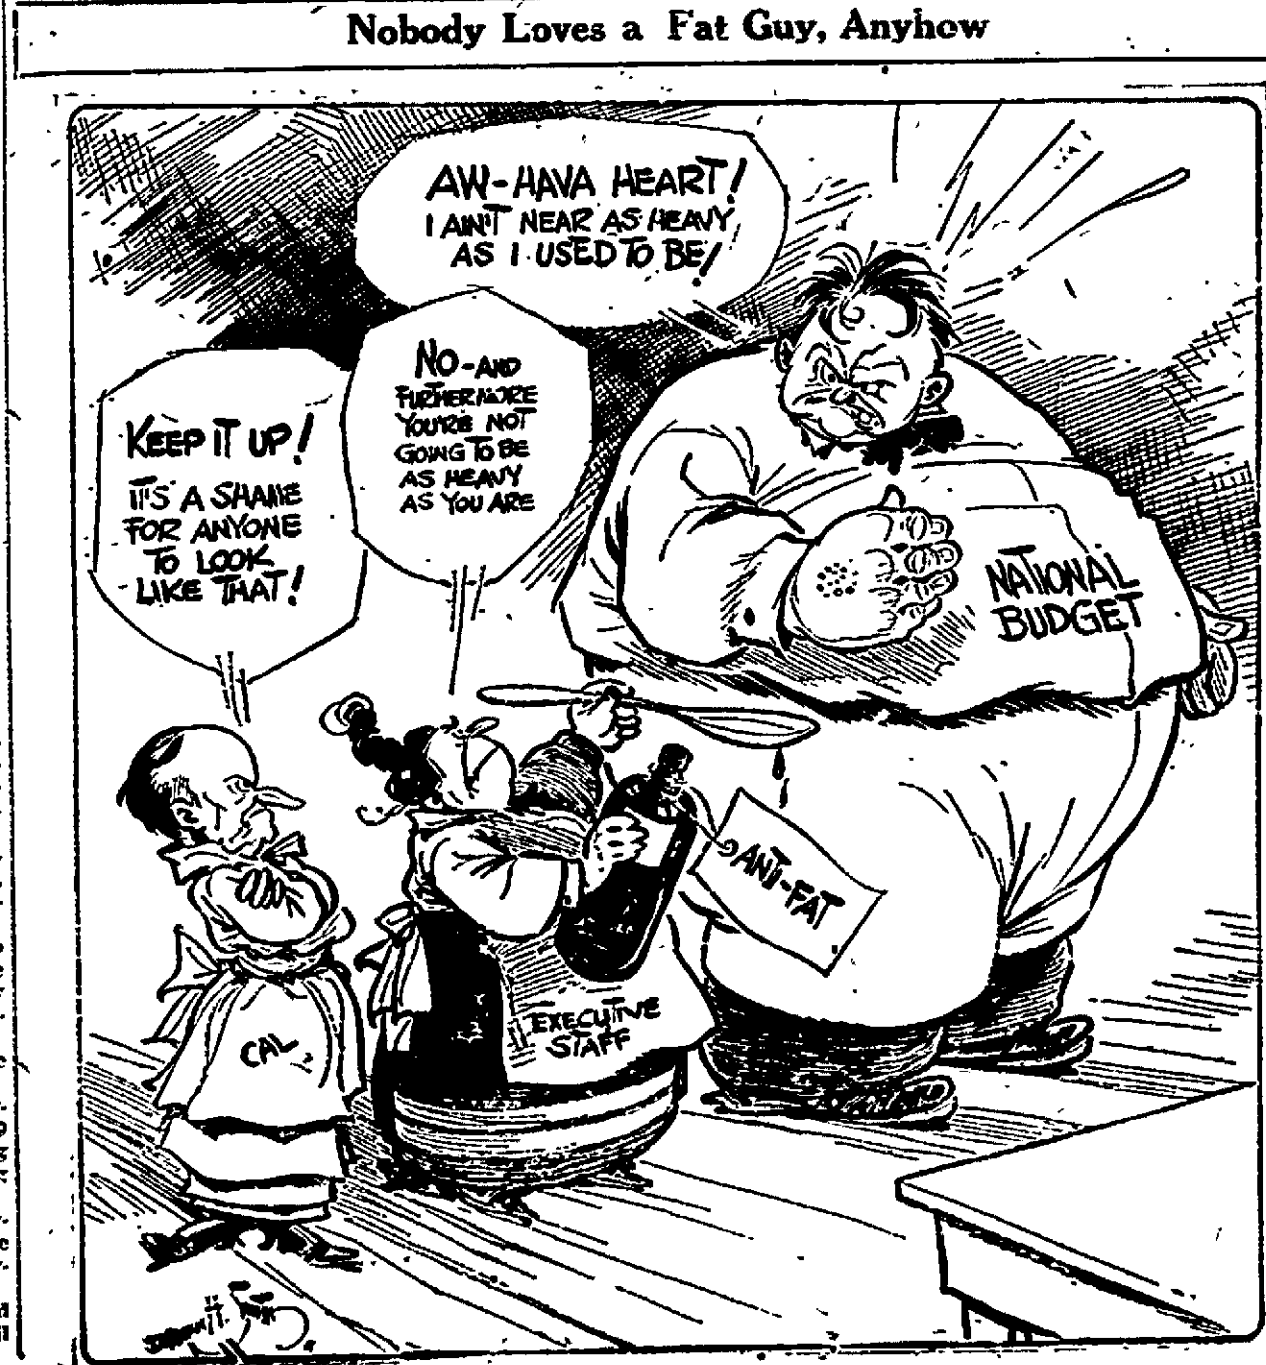

But the church-page editor episode illustrates the fact that those same writers will do exactly the same thing in reverse as it were. There is no essential difference between the church-page and the deacon idea. Neither one of them is taken from life and neither one of them has its roots in reality. In both cases the device is used with a desire on the part of the writers to shock and hence create a sensation. Paradox is always used to gain emphasis. When a writer uses the paradoxical title, "The Poor Little Rich Girl," he seeks attract attention by the word combination. And the same thing is true of the motif of the deacon who have described. The writers using them are more interested in the impression they can create by the method than in being faithful to real life.

Star Gazing For Girls At Island Camp

To most people star gazing means about the same thing as day dreaming. It is a hobby, or a pastime, or a game, but it has no such meaning for girls who will be in the star gazing class of Appleton Women's club at the island camp at Onaway island, Waupaca, which begins July 24. Some of the advanced girls scouts at the camp will take an overnight camp and study stars, planets, and other heavenly bodies, and make a record of their observations.

The star gazing class is under the direction of Mary Rogers, and on their overnight hike they will draw charts of the big dipper, the Cassiopeia constellation, and the north star showing the position of these constellations at every three hour interval during the night. Other natural phenomena to be studied by the girls are the aurora borealis, the northern lights, the sunsets and sunrises, the Milky Way, and the evening star. The solar system will be studied, and the location of the planets in the heavens will be learned.

Teach the Children To Swim.

There is nothing that will afford so much pleasure and benefit from a health standpoint. Swimming is a sport for all ages—one that can be enjoyed equally by young and old.

Children should start their swimming lessons early. As soon as they reach the age of five or six years, they are old enough to be taught the first strokes.

The Swimming Manual, prepared by the American Red Cross, and offered free by our Washington Information Bureau is just what you need in teaching beginners to swim.

In sending for a copy be sure to include two cents in stamps to cover the return postage.

GEORGE ADE'S STORY "OLD HOME WEEK" THROBS WITH REALTY AND ROMANCE, ROLLICKING HUMOR

Every ambitious boy dreams of the time when he will go out into the big world and return to the old town rich and famous. Then the mean old squire on the corner, the stingy grocer who kept too close an eye on the bananas, the cat's paw schoolmarm, the patronizing wife of the town's richest man—every body will swell with pride and importance and "I knew him when" would be the town's slogan.

This is the fundamental theme of Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount feature which will show at Fischers Appleton Theatre on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. "Old Home Week" was written by George Ade, the famous American humorist, who has given it many an original twist, filled it with comedy ingredients, added some dramatic trimmings, a surprise climax and a delightful ending, and the result is a picture bubbling over with wholesome humor and good clean fun and homespun pep. Tom has a role that fits him to the proverbial "T." His performance rings true because there is an air of unaffected naturalness about it, an undercurrent of sincerity and plausibility that holds the interest of the audience from the opening flash in to the fading close-out.

Who does not remember "Back Home and Broke" the outstanding picture of Tom's career. This picture is by the same author and adapted for the screen by the same scenarist, Tom Geraghty. It had to be good.

Also latest news reel, a Mack Sennett comedy "Giddy Up" and a Felix cat cartoon.

tre today and Tuesday. It is a plot-tization of "The Man Next Door," by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon," and shows with exceptional fidelity life on a great ranch in Wyoming contrasted with the shallow life of society in a great city. Women will be exceptionally interested in "The Man Next Door." It tells the story of a girl reared among the hard riding cowpunchers until she is sixteen and her transformation into a young debutante. Alice Calhoun, who plays Bonnie Bell Wright, wears some of the most magnificent gowns that have been seen on the screen.

The story tells of this wealthy young girl's effort to find friendship in a great city, and the heart interest in this comedy drama lies in the struggle of this girl for happiness. She learns that riches are no guarantee of love.

"ONE YEAR TO LIVE" WITH BIG CAST SOON
Aileen Pringle, Moreno, Dorothy Macknall in Film of Paris Gay Life.

"One Year to Live," M. C. Levee's First National production which will open at the Elite Theatre today for three days run, is a story dealing with a girl who is told that she has only one year to live and proceeds to live it as recklessly as she knows how. The expected thing would be that the essential and most poignant parts of that one year are left to the imagination.

No such thing in "One Year to Live." Director Canning has retained every portion of the John Hunter story which newspaper reporters would refer to as "stark realism." Aileen Pringle, as Elsie Duchner, is shown debating with herself whether she shall die without having her high and fast fling at life. When she finally decides what she does decide, the camera trails her. Let him who wants pure and undiluted description and coherence in his entertainment look to "One Year to Live" as a brilliant example. In it is embodied frankness of expression.

REVIEW BOARD KEY TO WHOLE TAXING SYSTEM

No Chance to Change Assessment if Owner Fails to Protest to Board

Although a disgruntled taxpayer has many other recourses after failing to get satisfaction from the board of review in adjusting his assessment, he has absolutely no recourse if he fails to appear before the board to protest his assessment, it was announced by Leo J. Toonen, county supervisor of assessors.

Mr. Toonen stressed the importance of taxpayers' attendance at the board of review sessions as he believes that it is the duty of taxpayers to protect their rights. Board of review sessions will begin this month throughout the county. Boards of review in towns will meet June 29 this year, or the last Monday of the month, and the board of equalization in Appleton and other cities of the county will meet July 6, or the first Monday of that month, in their respective cities. The meetings as a rule are held in the city, village or town hall.

GET COMPARISONS
Since the boards are likely to postpone or adjourn their meetings, especially if the local assessors have not completed their work, taxpayers should make it a point to telephone the city, village or town clerk to learn the date of adjournment. Mr. Toonen advised. Some boards meet at other places than in the municipal hall. At the board of review meeting the taxpayer may learn not only what valuation was placed upon his own property but also that upon neighboring property, thus enabling him to make comparisons.

If the taxpayer believes that the assessment made against his property by the local assessor is unfair, discriminatory or erroneous, he has six remedies to which he may resort, Mr. Toonen explained.

The step of greatest importance is protesting to the local board of review and petitioning for an adjustment. Testimony given before the board must be under oath to have any value.

MAY APPEAL
If, however, the board upholds the assessor on the protested assessment, then the disgruntled taxpayer may appeal from the decision within 20 days of adjournment to the state tax commission, and if the facts warrant, an adjustment will be made.

Where the taxpayer feels that an entire taxing district has been inequitably assessed, he may appeal to the tax commission for a reassessment of the entire district. To do this he must obtain a certain number of petitions from other taxpayers in the district.

A fourth remedy is simply to pay the tax under protest and then file a claim for refund with the town or village board or the city council. This is done by having the local treasurer write on the tax receipt "paid under protest."

Unless the taxpayer has first protested before the board of review or equalization, the city council or town or village board is powerless to grant a tax rebate, and any officer who votes to grant such a rebate makes himself personally liable.

Failing either before the board of review or before the local governing board, the dissatisfied taxpayer may contest the decisions in the courts.

An opportunity for compromise at the time the illegal tax is returned delinquent lies open to him by applying to the county clerk, county treasurer and district attorney, and if the three acting as a board consider the tax illegal, they may compromise with the taxpayer upon the basis of what they think is correct and equitable.

DROP HUNT FOR SOUTH FEUDIST

Believe Tennessee Dry Squad Aide and Veterinary Doctor Met Foul Play

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Officers who had been searching for Dr. W. D. Mason, veterinary surgeon, and Lawrence Bowman, aide of federal prohibition officers and alleged feudists who disappeared on Signal mountain Thursday night, returned to the city early Saturday morning without trace of the missing men.

Finding of Dr. Mason's abandoned automobile, bloodspattered and the hats of the two men near the scene was taken as evidence that a fight had occurred and led to the belief that Mason and Bowman had been killed and their bodies carried into the forest and hidden.

Bowman's straw hat was broken in and a heavy club which is thought to have been used by the assailants was found nearby.

Bowman is the leader of a faction which has been at war with what is known as the Godsey clan since the killing of his brother, Ike Bowman, by Sam Godsey, several months ago. The feud is said to have originated because of differences between rival gangs of moonshiners.

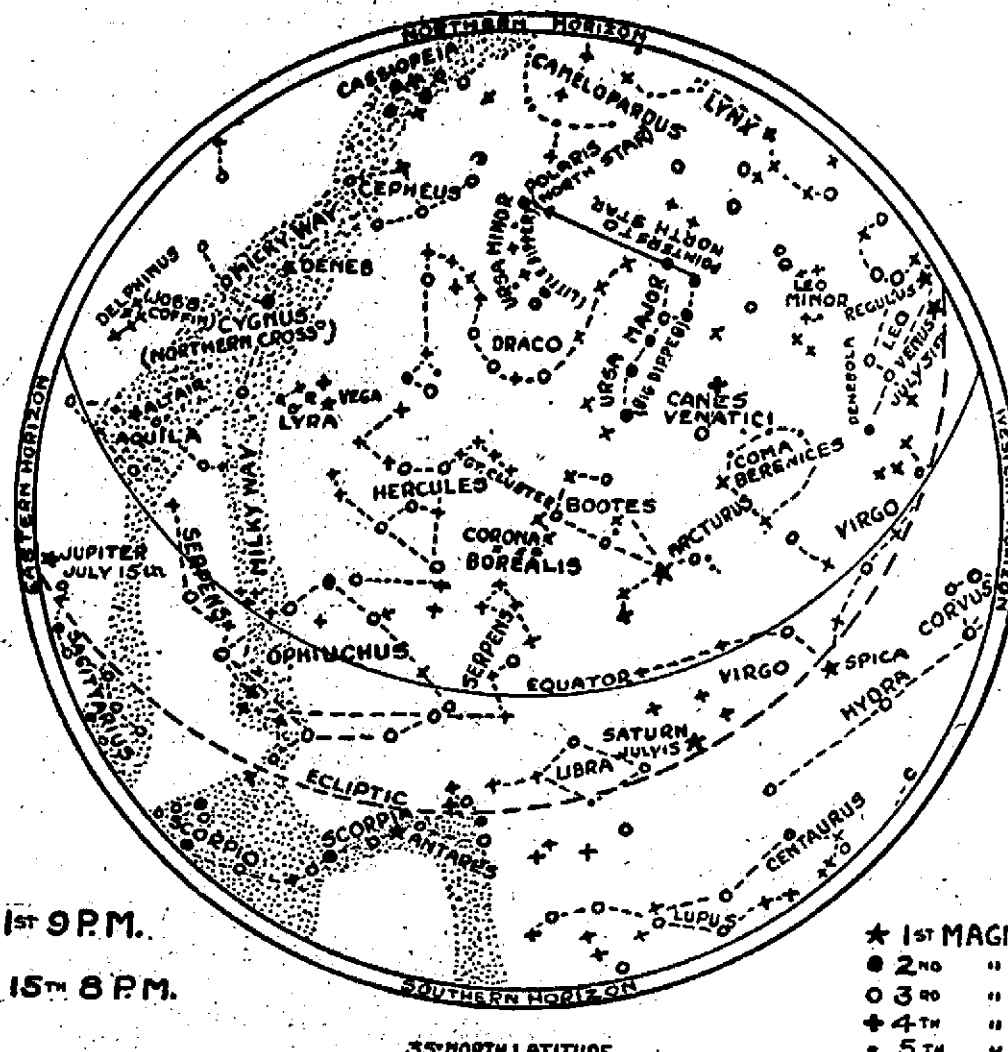

MAIL CARRIERS WHIP CLERKS AT PICNIC

Carriers triumphed over the clerks in the annual baseball game in connection with the outing of Appleton Postoffice association members and their families Sunday. The picnic was held at Rice Point near DePere.

In spite of the fact that carriers consented to strengthen the clerks' team with men of their own group, the clerks were unable to deliver. The carriers blamed it to the clerks' unfamiliarity with any kind of delivery other than the general delivery.

JULY 15th 8 P.M.

35° NORTH LATITUDE

★ 1st MAGNITUDE
● 2nd "
○ 3rd "
+ 4th "
• 5th "

This map shows the heavens as they appear at 9 p. m. July 1 or 8 p. m. July 15 in 35 degrees north latitude.

As a change of five or ten degrees in latitude makes little change in the appearance of the heaven the map may be used to advantage in all parts of the United States and southern Canada.

To view the constellations as they appear in the heavens hold the map over the head or inverted with the top toward the north.

Corona Borealis, the Northern Crown, lies on the meridian directly south of the zenith at this time. Next to it on the west is the kite-shaped constellation of Bootes with its brilliant orange-colored Arcturus, which lies in line with the handle of the Big Dipper—now in the northwest—prolonged about 20 degrees toward the south.

Directly east of Corona Borealis is the huge constellation of Hercules and next to Hercules on the northeast is the small constellation of Lyra, the Harp, which contains the brilliant blue-white Vega—one of the most beautiful stars of the northern heavens.

In the far southern skies this month appears the brilliant zodiacal constellation of Scorpio, the Scorpion, with its long line of stars representing the tail of the Scorpion trailing in a southeasterly direction to the horizon.

In the heart of Scorpion shines the fiery red Antares, which is reputed to be the greatest of all the stars in size, with a diameter of four hundred million miles.

Antares is so far away from the earth that its light, traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles per second, takes over three centuries to reach us.

The planet Venus is now in the evening sky and will be found in the northwest immediately after sunset. On the evening of July 10 the three planets, Venus, Mercury and Mars, will be in close conjunction.

Mars is now too faint because of its great distance from the earth to be visible to the naked eye when so unfavorably placed for observation in the evening twilight, but Mercury, which is as brilliant as Vega, should be visible close to Venus.

On July 28, Mercury reaches its greatest distance of more than 27 degrees east of the sun and should be seen in the evening twilight in the northwest close to Venus and Regulus in Leo.

Jupiter is now in Sagittarius in fine position for observation throughout the night. On July 10 it comes into opposition with the sun and will then be above the horizon from sunset to sunrise.

Saturn also is well in view in the evening sky in July and will be found over in the southwest in the early evening between Libra and Virgo.

battery, the carriers chalked up a victory, 28 to 16. The clerical employees used Koehler and Trexel for the heavy work. Another game between two women's teams, captained by Schmiede and Schmitt, postal employees, featured the outing. The game ending 7 to 6 in favor of the side led by Schmiede. Mrs. Harry Jung pitched for the Schmiedes and Miss Stark for the losers. The captains, the only male players on the teams, played behind the bat. Schneider and Brinkman settled their annual argument with Grimmer and Jung at croquet. The latter are regarded as professionals and their defeat was the subject of much bantering.

GAS VAPOR SETS HOUSE ON FIRE

Spark from Severed Wire Ignites Gas Near Gasoline Filling Station

Ignition of gas vapor enveloping the Wadham's gasoline filling station at Cherry-st and College-ave caused a fire in the restaurant and living apartments of Mrs. J. H. Groff next door Monday morning. Electricians working there cut a wire, and the sparks immediately ignited the gas vapor. The flames ran up the roof of the building and burned several holes in it. The damage, however, was not extensive as the fire department quickly extinguished the blaze.

Firemen answered another run Sunday evening to the residence of Henry Noffke, 632 W. Wisconsin-ave, where fire of undetermined origin was burning in the carpenter shop. The workshop contained building and roofing material and the loss of this, together with the damage to the building, is estimated by the owner at $1,200. The fire started near 11 o'clock which the Noffkes were away from home.

WHEN THE FOX TOOK DINNER WITH THE STORK

YOU KNOW THE STORY of the Stork that entertained the Fox. It is a tale of disappointment—and worse. The whole trouble was that the Stork insisted on putting the porridge for the meal into a long-necked vessel, which was most convenient for its personal use, but entirely out of the question for the Fox.

The most painful part of the anecdote is that the hungry Fox ate its inappetible food. And the moral of the story might well be that everyone—even a Fox—must have service.

We believe that everyone will appreciate the service value to them—in the immediate satisfaction of their personal needs—of the arrangement of our A-B-C Classified Section.

Classified ads that are NOT carefully grouped and NOT alphabetically listed are about as accessible as the porridge in the Stork's bottle was for the Fox. If you appreciate service—you'll enjoy reading the A-B-C Classified Column.

Red-Head In Pink Lured
Flo's Heart

New York—A red head in a pink ruffled dress captivated the world famous connoisseur of feminine beauty and their happy marriage is one of Broadway's most cherished romances—a romance the bright lights can't dim.

Flo Ziegfeld met Billie Burke at a dance—on Broadway.

"And we fell for each other like two freshmen attending their first prom," Miss Burke laughed. "As I came in Flo whispered to the man who was calling out the figures of the Paul Jones: 'See that I get the red-head in pink.'"

"As soon as he touched me, I was conscious of his marvelous hands—long, slender, artistic graceful and haunting. I fell in love then and there and never recovered."

"I treasure that pink, ruffled frock that I wore that evening above anything else in my wardrobe. I wear it yet at home festivities. After ten years of marriage, I still maintain Flo Ziegfeld is the most wonderful man I ever met."

When Ziegfeld triumphantly led the lovely Billie afterward, Broadway was frankly cynical. That won't last, the wise ones said.

BILIE WAS POPULAR

For Miss Burke was undoubtedly the most popular and sought-after actress in America and a pet of London as well. The eligibles of two continents had sought her favor in vain.

And Flo Ziegfeld had already started on his career of glorifying the American girl. His ability to pick beauties had been acknowledged. But was that particular gift an ideal accomplishment for a husband?

The worship and applause of the crowd that raised them to such heights of popularity is not nearly so necessary to them as the mutual love and devotion and those same homely ties that bind all really devoted couples.

Billie Burke has added to her prestige as an actress and beauty by being a devoted wife and intelligent mother, a famous hostess and housekeeper and an all-around woman. And Flo Ziegfeld shines as a father and a husband as well as a theatrical producer.

FLO LIKES SWEETS

"Of course, Flo has his faults," his wife admits. "He eats too many sweets, and he won't cut down on them."

Flo buys the most unexpected and unobtainable sort of presents for Patricia and me. Elephants, goats, alligators, and all species of live stock come in with his card attached when he's away. Only last week he got two buffaloes for us.

Personally, I don't believe the zoo's place is in the home, but there's nothing to be done.

"Patricia, our daughter, is our first Mol. The theater is our second. Then we both love our home and traveling. My husband encourages my career. I am under his management, professionally and I consider him the best manager in the country as well as the best husband."

"I understand his problems and he knows mine. Hence we have no professional differences. He wants me to be a success personally, and I want his productions to be the best of their kind."

"I don't feel jealous of the beautiful girls in his reviews. They belong there. I believe, with him, that the American girl should be glorified, because she is the most splendid thing in the world."

But Broadway and Ziegfeld himself agree that he never glorified anyone half so lovely as the red-head in the pink ruffled dress whom he selected to play the role of Mrs. Ziegfeld.

EAT GREENS AND LEAVE SWEETS
UNTOUCHED TO BE SLIM AND PRETTY

BY AGATHA DEBUSSEY
Of The Ziegfeld Follies

Because I know beauty must come from the inside instead of the outside, I am extremely careful of my diet. During the summer I avoid all complicated mixtures of food, and all highly seasoned dressings or sauces.

Once or twice a week, but no more, I have meat. The rest of the time I live on green vegetables, simply cooked or arranged in crisp salads.

No desserts of cake or pie come my way, but I have all the fresh fruits and melons I want. Often I drink a glass of buttermilk or of sweet milk, and call it a meal.

By keeping my diet simple, I have very little to do for my complexion, but cleanse it. And my weight stays down so well I don't have to worry about any extra pounds.

So my beauty creed is just "Watch your diet and pour face and figure will take care of themselves."

LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER
TO MRS. JOHN ALDEN PRES-COTT

I am sending you, today, dear lady, a layette for your coming baby.

I can not tell how much joy it has given me to buy these little clothes. I do not mind telling you, dear madame, that although I am quite sure that I shall never marry anyone, I know that my heart will always be filled with longing for a child—a son.

It may seem strange to you, but sometimes my arms fairly ache for the feel of him and no lover's kisses that could be pressed upon my lips would give me the bliss and joy of baby's moist mouth against my cheek.

I am envious of you, Madame Leslie, and all the time I am wondering if the coming of another child will make you love less which you elected to keep when some poor forsaken, heart-broken, miserable mother left it upon your doorstep.

I am quite anxious to start my new picture. It is one that your friend, Mrs. Summers, has written. In it I take the part of a woman over 40. Heroines of this kind are quite the style at present. I am quite pleased with the idea.

Will you ask someone to wire me when the baby makes its appearance for I am very much interested as you know I will never forget your kindness and sweetness to me.

You have made me understand the sympathy and understanding of my sex and if you will let me say so, I love you. PAULA PERIER

Telegram From Sydney Carton to John Alden Prescott

"Many happy returns, and may they all be boys. You know that I think a girl has a damned hard time in this world, particularly if she happens to be married to man like you. I accept the honor you tender me. Will love to be the godfather of Leslie's boy. Sincerely, SYD."

Telegram From John Alden Prescott to Paula Perier

"At Mrs. Prescott's request, I am wiring you the advent of Sydney Hamilton Prescott, who was born day before yesterday. Mrs. Prescott has just read your letter, but has not as yet received your gift. She is, however, sure that it will be very beautiful and appropriate. She wishes me to assure you that she is very grateful that her baby is a boy so that she may show to the world that the child she adopted will fill as great a place in her heart as this new baby. Again thanking you for your thoughtfulness of Mrs. Prescott, I remain, JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT"

KITCHEN

Breakfast—Rhubarb crisp with raisins, cereal, thin cream, baked graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Tomatoes stuffed with spinach, white bread and butter, Swiss chard salad, rice pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled lamb chops, creamed new potatoes, buttered beets, cabbage salad, bran rolls, raspberry short-cake, milk, coffee.

Many children are not hungry at breakfast time, and particularly during the summer months want only a very light breakfast. The wise mother will serve milk and sandwiches about ten o'clock to small persons who ate insufficient breakfasts.

The tomatoes stuffed with spinach make an especially good vegetable to serve with a planked steak or fish, but are also an excellent luncheon dish if served with a hearty dessert.

STUFFED TOMATOES

Four or five tomatoes, 1 pound spinach, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, salt and pepper.

Wash tomatoes and cut a slice from the stem end. Scoop out seeds and pulp and drain. Wash spinach and cook in its own juice. When almost dry chop very finely and add tomato juice. Add egg slightly beaten, melted butter, salt and pepper. Fill tomato shells with mixture and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. Five minutes before removing from oven sprinkle each tomato with grated cheese and return to the oven to melt the cheese.

The Feather Cake

It was Jack and Jill's birthday—so Mrs. John baked a fine big double birthday cake and set it out to cool.

It was a beautiful birthday cake all covered with white icing with pink scallops around the edge and "Jack" and "Jill" written on top in pink icing letters.

Mrs. John was so proud of it that she went out on her back porch every two minutes to look at it and try the icing with the tip of her finger to see if it was hard enough to get away.

"Not quite hard enough yet," she said each time. "Won't the children be surprised when they sit down to dinner to see such a fine cake with their names on and everything. I shall put sixteen little pink candles on top—eight for Jack and eight for Jill—and have them all burning at once."

She was so pleased about it that she called to the Old Shoe Woman to come over the back-way and look at it.

"My! My!" cried the Old Shoe Woman when she saw it. "Wouldn't my children be happy with such a cake. They only get broth and dry bread and sometimes not that. It looks like a very light cake, Mrs. John."

"Yes," said Mrs. John proudly. "It is as light as a feather. I put a lot of baking powder in, and sifted the flour five times, and stirred it very carefully, putting the beaten whites of the eggs in last. And when it was in the oven I took care not to so much as walk across the floor. Yes, it is a very nice cake and when it is cut I shall send each of your children a piece."

"Thank you," Mrs. John, said the Old Shoe Woman gratefully. "I must hurry home now and get lunch. The children will soon be coming home from school."

When the Old Shoe Woman had gone, Mrs. John went upstairs to make her beds and sweep and dust and fix the house up, because a lot of aunts and uncles and cousins were coming to have dinner and sample the fine birthday cake.

Suddenly there was a roar like a clap of thunder.

It was Mother Goose sneezing into her feather barre when the magic snuff got up her nose, but Mrs. John didn't know it.

She rushed to a window and looked up at the sky.

"It's snowing," she cried, "and right in the middle of a spring day. I'll have to go down and see about my cake."

So down she rushed.

But to her surprise she found her cake covered, not with snow, but with feathers, and it looked more like some queer bird than a birthday cake.

But Mrs. John liked a joke as well as anybody, and she had to laugh. "It's as light as several feathers now," she said.

She didn't pick the feathers off until Jack and Jill came home from school. And they had a good laugh, too.

ANOTHER RAP AT HIGH HEELS
Some chiropodists claim that high-heeled shoes are correct and fitting for women.

But when it is noted that the shoe heel is an invention of man, and that Nature has furnished our feet with flat heels, the chiropodists' argument loses weight.

A person may become so accustomed to high heels that a change to low heels will cause some discomfort. This is the explanation for the complaints from women last year about the arches in their feet when they attempted to wear the low-heel shoes that were in vogue.

It is not advisable to make a sudden change in the style and shape of shoes at any time.

A laced shoe is preferable to a buttoned shoe. The laces permit the shoe to be drawn snug about the instep, giving support to the arch.

If a person has a tendency to turn on his ankle it is best to wear high laced shoes.

Low shoes are growing popular for the year round. And this is good for most persons. Low shoes permit the air to reach the foot. Also they give more freedom to the arch muscles, permitting them to develop.

If low shoes were worn from childhood there would be no weak ankles.

CHARLES J. MAAHS WINS HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT

Newland, City Champion, Is Ousted By Tourney Winner In Second Prelim Contest

Saturday's Event Is Preliminary to Championship Contest Planned for August

Charles J. Maahs became the king of horseshoe pitchers of this city Saturday when he outpitched Homer L. Dawson, 50 to 22, in the finals of a match held on the Y. M. C. A. courts. Dawson dropped to second place through his defeat in the final match while J. Newland, last year's champion of the city, was not up to his usual form and dropped out after the second frame when he drew Maahs as his opponent. J. A. Carter took third place after making a good showing up to the semi-finals in which he was ousted, 50 to 41, by Dawson.

The courts were in fine shape, and eight players were entered in the tourney. The event was planned to get up interest in the game in preparation for a championship tournament later in the summer. The competition was open to everyone in the city, but the entries were practically the same as last year.

The results of the first elimination round were as follows: H. L. Dawson 50, Fred Morris 43; J. A. Carter 50, F. W. Clippinger 48; Charles J. Maahs 50, R. Pardee 20; J. Newland 50, E. B. Carnes 36.

In the second round Carter nosed out Dawson, 50 to 45, and Maahs swamped Newland, 50 to 16. Clippinger, matched with Pardee in the second round, was easily defeated, 50 to 47, after a close contest, and Dawson easily conquered Newland, 50 to 20.

Maahs survived the third round when he defeated Carter, 50 to 43, while Dawson came through his match with Pardee, winning 50 to 32. Dawson and Carter then fought for chance in the finals, and after a hard, close game Dawson came out on top, 50 to 41, winning the right to play Maahs for the lead.

Dawson was no match for Maahs, who seemed to improve with the practice he had got in the preliminary matches. Maahs took his shots easily and after time topped Dawson's efforts and knocked his rival's irons from the stifle. When the game had ended Maahs was far in the lead, having won, 50 to 22.

The next tournament probably will be held in August with the championship of the city at stake.

Baseball Simplified

By Billy Evans

What is the object of the infield fly and why is it necessary that first and second or first, second and third be occupied and there be less than two out for the rule to be operative?

The infield fly was placed in the rule-book to prevent the making of double plays by purposely trapping or dropping a fly ball.

With runners on first and second, or the bases filled, it would be an easy matter to pull a double play on a fly to the infield. The runners must hold their bases to avoid being doubled if the ball is caught; by trapping it the infielder has the runners at his mercy.

The rule is not operative with first only or first and third occupied, because there is really no chance for a double if the batsman runs out his hit as he should. Under such conditions taking a chance on trapping the ball couldn't possibly result in more than one out. Thus it would be a foolish play.

Less than two must be out for the rule to be operative, because with two down, there would be no object in trapping or purposely dropping the ball, therefore it must be caught regardless of the runners on the bases.

The infield fly as now interpreted properly protects the base runner when there are runners on first and second or first, second and third and less than two out.

The moment the umpire declares infield fly, the runners know the batsman is out, which removes the force and permits them to advance at their peril as on any other fly ball that is caught or missed.

MOTORCYCLE SPEEDERS WILL RACE IN AUGUST

Milwaukee—Leading motorcycle riders in the world will compete here in the national championship races at State Fair park on Sunday, Aug. 2. This was announced by Jim Clark, promoter of the race, on Saturday, when preliminary details for the race were worked out.

The big four of the sport will be here. It includes Ralph Hepburn, Jim Davis, Johnny Seymour and Paul Anderson. They returned less than two months ago from their winter campaign in Australia. In addition to these riders will be a number of newcomers just springing into prominence.

Hepburn forsook the saddle of his racing cycle to take the wheel of a car at the Indianapolis race. He led the field for several laps but finished tenth. Hepburn raced again at Attolona but was forced out with motor trouble.

Seven Straight Triumphs Entrench White Sox in Third Place in American

By Associated Press
New York—Western opposition looms formidable as the twelfth week of the season opens on the major league front with eastern clubs having shoe-string advantages.

Seven straight triumphs have firmly entrenched the White Sox in third place in the American league while the Bengals are now parked on the fourth rung.

Chicago wrested an 8 to 4 victory from the Indians Sunday. Thurston checking Cleveland at critical points with tight pitching.

The Browns broke into the winning column by defeating the Tigers, 6 to 2, and ending the Detroit winning streak of nine in a row.

The Senators inaugurated their return to the capital with a 6 to 1 verdict over the Athletics. Reuther easing the Mackmen down with five bingles. Washington is now within one. The Yankees took a rest Sunday.

Pittsburgh took toll from three Red twirlers and won, 5 to 2, keeping pace with the Giants who defeated the Braves, 6 to 5. Meusel's triple scored the winning run in the eighth inning at New York. The Corsairs continue to trail the McGraw clan by two points.

The Pirates' victory, however, backed Cincinnati into a deadlock for third place with the Robins, who could not play the Phillies because of rain.

Ly taking both sections of a double oil with the Cubs, 5 to 1 and 8 to 3. St. Louis rose threateningly as a contender for third honors.

RACINE WINS, 5-4, AS STRONG STOPS RALLY

Shebogan—Strong's sensational stop of Heitberger's hard hit back of first base stopped a ninth-inning rally after the Chicks had scored two runs Sunday and Racine nosed out a 5 to 4 victory by hitting opportunely off Lathrop early in the game. Shebogan had two new men in the lineup in Jennings, Minneapolis, and Lefty Russell, formerly of the Philadelphia Athletics.

CRIMSON GREAT EVENT IN SCULLING DEFEAT

Despite its beating by Yale, the Harvard crew was great in defeat. With the best shell that has represented the Crimson in seasons, the Cambridge crewmen put up a sensational battle against a Blue boat very near the equal of the wonderful 1924 outfit. Surely Harvard was not disgraced.

PLYMOUTH DOWNS APPLETON TEAM 4 TO 2, SUNDAY

Bunched Hits Responsible for Loss of Hard Game by Fox Rivermen

Plymouth downed the Fox River team of Appleton, 4 to 2, at Plymouth when the home team bunched its hits, and DeLong and Peebles pulled a number of circus catches that spoiled several heavy swats by Gosha, Radtke, and Last. The Plymouth swatters made four hits count for three runs in the third inning and copped a fourth tally in the fifth. H. Torow's work in the box for the Appleton team was steady and consistent, and he allowed only one more hit than Flood.

Vangeman garnered a three bagger off Torow's offerings, however, while Koehler and Flood each poled out two baggers. C. Torow started at bat for the invading team, hitting safely three out of four times at bat. Appleton scored its first home run in the fourth stanza when Gosha took first on balls, stole second and came home on a hit by Baetz. The second run for the Fox Rivermen was made in the eighth. Schultz poled a single and stole second base. He came home on Gosha's hit into left field, and for a time it looked as though the tide had turned in Appleton's favor. Gosha stole second again and made third on a safety through second. Baetz bunted to bring him in, but Gosha was a little too slow and was caught at home by about a foot, while Radtke grounded out.

The next game scheduled for the Appleton team will bring Fond du Lac here on July 4. This contest will be played at Brandt park. The batteries: Appleton—H. Torow and Last; Plymouth—Flood and Pokel.

The Browns broke into the winning column by defeating the Tigers, 6 to 2, and ending the Detroit winning streak of nine in a row.

Pittsburgh took toll from three Red twirlers and won, 5 to 2, keeping pace with the Giants who defeated the Braves, 6 to 5. Meusel's triple scored the winning run in the eighth inning at New York. The Corsairs continue to trail the McGraw clan by two points.

The Pirates' victory, however, backed Cincinnati into a deadlock for third place with the Robins, who could not play the Phillies because of rain.

Ly taking both sections of a double oil with the Cubs, 5 to 1 and 8 to 3. St. Louis rose threateningly as a contender for third honors.

M'COY-NOLANS CLASH WITH CYRILS, JULY 4

Milwaukee—The McCoy-Nolan Giants, Milwaukee's only colored baseball tourists, will return to town this week and are scheduled to hook up with the Cyrils of the Milwaukee County league at South Side ball park, July 4. The Giants have been on a tour which started last fall and extended to Southern California. For the next month they have been playing through Missouri, beating everything in their class in the "Show me" state. Following the game here Saturday, they will go an extended tour of northern Wisconsin and Michigan.

LOUISVILLE SETTING GOOD PACE IN A. L.

Louisville appears to be bent on making a soft race of it in the American Association. The Colonels are leading the field by a fairly comfortable margin with St. Paul coming up as the only challenger at present.

Ty Cobb Is Only Leader Who Chooses Opponents' Hurler

Detroit—Ty Cobb is nothing if not original. Always noted for his colorful characteristics and mannerisms, Cobb has added a new one to his repertoire.

The Detroit manager enjoys the unique distinction of being the only major league leader to pick the pitcher for the opposition. It happened this way:

Manager Fohl of the Red Sox figured to use Ehmske on Saturday, June 20th, as it was his regular day to work. Incidentally he had four straight wins to his credit.

"I will pitch Carroll against Boston on Saturday," agreed Cobb, "but will not work him against either Ehmske or Quinn. Boston must use some pitcher other than one of the two veteran stars."

Boston agreed to the dictates of a rival manager. Ehmske pitched a day out of turn and was beaten 6-3 in 10 innings. Ruffing, the youthful Red Sox star, was used against Carroll.

Unquestionably Cobb is the only manager in the history of the majors who has told the opposition whom they could and couldn't pitch and got away with it.

REAL FINANCIAL FAVOR
Cobb, of course, figured that in permitting Carroll to start against Boston with only two days major league experience, he was granting the Boston club a financial favor.

Because of that he insisted Boston should show some consideration toward Carroll. He stipulated that neither of the club's two veteran stars should be used against his college phenom and won his point.

The Red Sox then proceeded to take revenge by scoring eight runs in six innings and driving the Holy Cross star to the showers. Detroit, however, eventually won the game, 11-2.

ATHLETICS HIT .337 SINCE FIRST OF JUNE

Since the first of June the Athletics have compiled a team hitting average of .337. And in every series in the first two weeks of the month they batted at least .400 in one of the games. Such clouting is certain to bring results.

SENTINELS COP 6 TO 5, IN HOT MENASHA TILT

Beyermen Use Three Pitchers to Down Twin City Falcons in Sunday Game

Val Beyer's Sentinels nosed out the Menasha Falcons, 6 to 5, on their home grounds Sunday afternoon, but needed three pitchers to do the trick. Vanderloop, Bernhardt and Stegeman took the mound for the Sentinels and held the Falcons to six hits, while the Beyer's sluggers were gathering eleven off W. Zelinski and Zenefski.

Jerry, third baseman for the Falcons, poled out a fourbagger in the fourth frame, but made the circuit alone because the bases were bare. Phillips and Ashman clouted out a twobagger apiece, also with the sacks empty.

The Sentinels started the game by copping two runs in the initial stanza off four hits and a base on balls, and added one each in the second, fourth, fifth and seventh. The Menasha tribe garnered its runs in the second, fourth, fifth and seventh, making two in the fourth.

The three-Sentinel pitchers retired five men by the strikeout route while Zelinski and Zenefski struck out three men between them.

The batteries: Sentinels—Vanderloop, Bernhardt, Stegeman and Ashman; Falcons—W. Zelinski, Zenefski and Zsokol.

BOY DROWNS AFTER TAKING FALSE DIVE

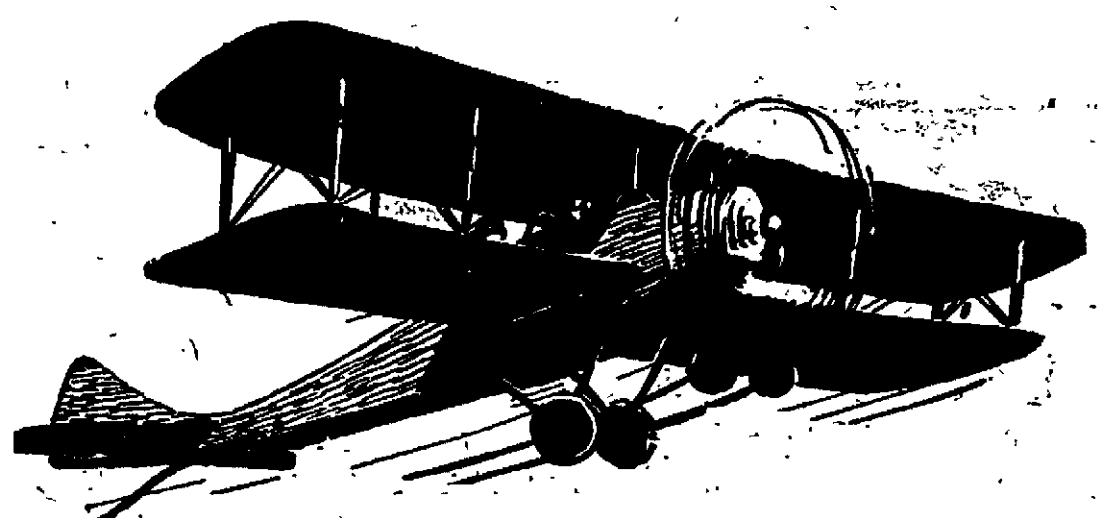

Kenosha—Walter Skendziel, 17, drowned at Lily Lake here Saturday when he attempted to dive out of a rowboat 150 feet from shore. The boy struck the water on his stomach and it is believed that this forced the air out of his lungs. He did not come up until two of his pals, Randall Austen and Harry Hansen, who were in the boat with him at the time, went after him. Coroner Joseph Friend announced after an investigation that the drowning was accidental.

This was the first time that the new law placing a bonus of $2 on every arrest made for this form of traffic violations had been placed in effect, and now the police department here firmly believes in the adage about the cup and lip.

BADGER LEGISLATURE
ADJOURNS AT 1:30 P. M.

By Associated Press
Madison—Wisconsin's fifty seventh legislature Monday quietly slipped into history. It adjourned sine die at 1:30 with about a dozen members of the two houses present.

All votes were sustained. The senate tabled measures returned to it with executive disapproval and the half dozen assembly members murmured negative responses to calls for votes on the question of overriding vetoes.

Four interim committees were named by Lieut. Governor Huber and Speaker Sachtlein. They are: "Taxation and departmental consolidation—Senators Heck, Chairman; Boldt and Chase. Assemblymen Duncan, Lawson, Price and Schmidt. LaFollette memorial—Senators Cushman and Treadwell. Assemblymen Ebor, Price and Weber.

Philipp memorial—Senators Morris and White. Assemblymen Blanchard, Engel and Prescott. Mississippi River pollution—Senator Hunt, Assemblymen Perry and Swanson.

The vetoes included disapproval of a bill basing high school tuition upon the expense of maintaining the schools. The governor said he felt it would give little relief and suggested that the question be considered by the interim committee on taxation.

The Weather

WEATHER FOR WISCONSIN
Fair tonight and probably Tuesday. Rising temperature Tuesday and in western portion tonight.

GENERAL WEATHER
Except for the high pressure area over the middle northwest, the weather control on the weather map Monday morning was local in character. Local showers have fallen in widely scattered portions of the country over the weekend. The pressure is relatively rather low and the temperature high in the intermountain region and the southern plain states. A high pressure area over the middle northwest is expected to continue to dominate weather conditions here over Tuesday, with fair weather and moderate temperatures.

Evelyn Nesbit, As Cabaret Singer,
Wins Back Public Confidence

Chicago — Evelyn Nesbit, central figure in the famous trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square Garden, two decades ago, has risen to the great of the wave again. Her 20-year fight to regain the respect and confidence of the nation has succeeded, she says.

No longer is she rudely stared at when she appears in public. Her performances on the stage on in the cabaret get the same polite attention that is given other actresses.

"The public has taken me back," says Evelyn, who is appearing tonight in a cabaret here.

"And why shouldn't it?" she asks. "NOT A SQUARE DEAL."

"The people have watched me through these years and they have watched Harry Thaw and his mother. They know now that I never got a square deal."

Although it has been 20 years since White's murder, Miss Nesbit has kept her youthful appearance. Her hair is shingle bobbed and she usually wears striking gowns of white and black, her favorite colors.

And it is not entirely for herself that she made the fight to "come back." Her son, Russell, 14, claims most of her thoughts.

"It's for him that I'm working," she says. "He must be fed and clothed and educated. So I'm singing in cabarets to earn money for him."

Russell is now going to a preparatory school at Longport, N. J. Later he is going to college. His mother says he hopes to become a surgeon.

In her fight to come back Miss Nesbit has buried the dead past forever. She explains that there is no possibility of any reconciliation between herself and Thaw.

"I feel sorry for him, but I no longer care for him," she says. "Do you ever intend to marry again?" she was asked.

"Never," was her quick reply. "I'm independent now and I'm going to remain independent. Oh! It's wonderful to be independent."

"I like my work. I don't dance any more—just sing. The public gives me a wonderful reception."

STARS ARE FEW
"Of course, a few people still come to see me just out of curiosity. They want to see what that Evelyn Nesbit looks like. But the crowds no longer stare at me like they used to."

This summer Miss Nesbit intends to come back to Chicago and open a cafe on the "gold coast."

She is always accompanied by one of her four Belgian Griffon dogs. "They're much more companionable than men," she explains.

"Dogs are honest and faithful and never deceitful. That's more than you can say for some men."

KRUGMEIER AND JOHNS HONORED AT BAR MEETING

Appleton Attorney Is Elected
District Vice President of Lawyers' Association

A. H. Krugmeier of Appleton was elected vice president of the Wisconsin Bar association for the Tenth judicial district at the meeting of the state association in Eau Claire which ended Saturday. He succeeds Attorney F. S. Bradford in this office.

Appleton lawyers who attended the convention were F. S. Bradford, J. L. Johns and Stanley A. Stahl. Mr. Johns was reelected chairman of the membership committee. The new head of the association is Roy P. Wilcox of Eau Claire.

The next convention will be held either at Kenosha or Kiburn, both cities having extended invitations. The executive committee will determine the place as well as the date. Last year the state bar convention was held in Appleton, and lawyers attending the meeting at Eau Claire were still profuse in their praise of the entertainment they received here at that time.

Instead of taking part in the usual toasts during the Saturday evening banquet, the association procured Ople Read, noted lecturer, for a humorous address.

Among the outstanding resolutions of the convention was that in favor of United States participation in the world court. A later attempt at reconsideration of the resolution was defeated 27 to 25. The opposition was not to the world court but rather to the procedure of endorsing it. Some lawyers wanted the matter first referred to a committee so that opportunity would be given to each one to investigate the matter before voting on it.

A good attendance was evident during all the days of the convention. There was no discussion in the sessions of state politics and very little of it between sessions. Although both Mr. Wilcox and former Governor Francis McGovern have been mentioned for the seat of the late Senator LaFollette, neither would comment on the matter when interviewed by newspapermen.

CANCEL PLANS FOR ELK CIRCUS

Lodge Gives Ear to Objections of Those Who Are Combatting Carnivals Here

Elk lodge has cancelled the circus which it planned to hold here for the week beginning July 29, following action taken by the members at a general meeting last week. The Joe Bren Production Co., Chicago, had a closed contract with the Appleton order to show here but consented to cancel the agreement when notified by James H. Balliet, exalted ruler, of the action the lodge had taken.

Permission had been granted by the common council to license the circus for a week's stay here. Protest was raised by several organizations which had been working to keep carnivals away from here. The contention was that this company conducted amusements along similar lines and the lodge therefore was asked to refrain from entertaining it here.

It was the belief of most of the members that nothing should be done by the order contrary to the efforts of those who have been working for the improvement of Appleton's amusements and the officers therefore were instructed to cancel the contract if it were possible to do so without loss. The show officials readily consented and the company therefore will pass up Appleton on its Wisconsin tour this summer.

TENANT SUED FOR FAILURE TO PAY RENT

A civil action arising out of a dispute over the payment for occupying a house was started in municipal court Monday before County Judge V. Heinemann, acting municipal judge, in which Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Hantschel claimed a judgment for an amount to cover what they said is due them through failure of George Driesen to pay rental of a house on 1701 S. Lawrence. The sum of $25 was agreed upon in December, 1924, the Hantschels declared, but the amount had not yet been paid.

Mrs. Jack DeSomers and family of Milwaukee, are visiting at the home of Mrs. W. J. Stahl.

CAR RAMS BUILDING AFTER HITTING COUPE

No one was injured and only a few minor damages were resulted from a collision of a touring car owned by Michael Van Roy of Milwaukee, and a coupe driven by Otto Aufreite of Kaukauna at about 1:30 Sunday afternoon on Crooks ave. Kaukauna, Mr. Van Roy was traveling east on Third-st. when he saw a woman crossing the street at the corner of Third-st. and Crooks-ave. In order to avoid hitting her, he made a wide left turn and collided with the coupe. The touring car was sent over the curb and struck the brick building occupied by the Haas Hardware Co. disarranging a number of bricks in the wall and jarring the building so that articles on shelves were thrown to the floor.

A badly bent steering gear on the coupe, was perhaps the most serious damage.

was through his influence that a well equipped hospital was built there not long ago. Everyone who is interested in the subject is invited.

GRAY LINE SOLD TO TRACTION CO.

Deal Made Saturday Leaves
Only One Motorbus Line
Operating to Green Bay.

Royal J. Gray's motorbus line operating between Appleton and Green Bay has been taken over by Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company through a deal consummated Saturday. The line formerly was known as the Gray Bus line.

An Appleton-Green Bay bus line has been operated by the utility company for several months and the deal between the two companies leaves only the one line in the field. Traction company vehicles are being used until the others are ready for service.

Schedules previously maintained by the traction company will continue.
